COVID-19

Alwyn Rehabilitation Hospital has been forced to think and operate differently during this phase, implementing stringent new safety and clinical quality procedures and policies in response to the unfolding crisis. These measures included additional guidelines around social distancing, personal protective equipment use and monitoring, changes to infection and control protocols, and restrictions on visitors to facilities – to name a few.

Our thank you to all the Staff for their hard work and resilience during this time.

Despite all we still managed to celebrate.
